Errors when writing an essay

What is an essay?

Essay is not at all citing sources on a specific topic, so it would be an error to write essay as a mini-abstract. Some compare essays with an abstract. This is true in part. Essay after all differs from the composition with a clearer point of thought and the mandatory presence of arguments.

Essay the genre of literary prose, which is often used in journalism. After all, this genre is designed in a brief form to give an exhaustive answer to the question. This is waiting for you and teacher. Therefore, it is important in the essay to reflect your opinion on the given question, argument and substantiate it. The text of the essay should be logically built. The style of the presentation is publicistic.

Rules setting essay

To make it easier for us to distinguish the essay from other genres, lay out its main features. The essay theme is quite narrow, affecting some kind of problem that encourages reflection. The author's position is obligatory, which may be subjective. Publishing feed. It follows a magazine, not complicating text with scientific. The vitality and emotionality of the presentation is welcome.

The problem marked in the subject should consider as much as possible, from different sides. Be sure to give arguments.

Essay is quite a short genre, it takes 3-5 pages on average. Therefore, the detailed consideration of the issue here does not mean that it is necessary to pour water on this topic. Reflections must be brief, but the capacious.

Essay does not have a clear structure. But, so that the text look logically, the standard composition should be observed: the text begins with the zeal, then a number of opinions and arguments arising from each other, fastened by a logical ligament, at the end a small total conclusion. Selection of theme essay

If you in the university gave a list of the essay, it will be logical if you choose the topic that you are closer to which you do not mind to reflect.

If there is no list of topics, and the teacher only identifies you the direction in which you must choose a problem for the essay, you will have to formulate theme yourself. See that in this area they write on the Internet, what articles and questions are caused by the greatest interest, which affects you. Think what the topic will allow you to reveal and show yourself from the most favorable side. Essay Plan and Composition

Let us dwell a little more on the conventional structure of the essay. The compilation of the Essay Plan is not necessarily, but often this stage of work helps to start writing an essay. Using a plan, you can schedule a sequence of future presentation.
